James L. Adamson

He was born Jan. 30, 1950 in Ottumwa, Iowa, to Lenard Roy Adamson and Dorothy Belle McConnell.

He was a Vietnam veteran of the U.S. Army Air Corp., serving in Germany, the Panama Canal and the United States. He had received the Bronze Star for bravery. He served in the National Guard while living in, Pittsburg where he worked at Pittsburg State University.

He was an active church member and attended Lighthouse and Cornerstone Churches in Pittsburg and the Living Water Worship Center in Salina.

Survivors include his mother of Salina; two sisters, Pauline Denise Adamson of Salina; two brothers, Leonard Adamson of Russelville, Ky., and Timothy Adamson of Akron, Colo.; and and [sic] 23 nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his father; and a brother, Gary Adamson.

Memorial services will be 3 p.m. Saturday at the Living Water Worship Center in Salina with the Rev. Doug King officiating. The body will be cremated. Burial will be in the Minneapolis City Cemetery with military honors provided by the U.S. Army of Fort Riley.

©Copyright 2004 The Morning Sun
James L. Adamson

He was born Jan. 30, 1950 in Ottumwa, Iowa, to Lenard Roy Adamson and Dorothy Belle McConnell.

He was a Vietnam veteran of the U.S. Army Air Corp., serving in Germany, the Panama Canal and the United States. He had received the Bronze Star for bravery. He served in the National Guard while living in Pittsburg where he worked at Pittsburg State University.

He was an active church member and attended Lighthouse and Cornerstone Churches in Pittsburg and the Living Water Worship Center in Salina.

Survivors include his mother of Salina; two sisters, Pauline Hamilton of Pittsburg, and Denise Adamson of Salina; two brothers, Leonard Adamson of Russelville, Ky., and Timothy Adamson of Akron, Colo.; and 23 nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his father; and a brother, Gary Adamson.

Memorial services will be 3 p.m. Saturday at the Living Water Worship Center in Salina with the Rev. Doug King officiating. The body will be cremated. Burial will be in the Minneapolis City Cemetery with military honors provided by the U.S. Army of Fort Riley.