Randall Brian Hicks

DALLAS - Randall Brian 'Randy' Hicks, 51, of Dallas, formerly of Fort Scott, died Wednesday, Aug. 24, 2005, in Dallas.

He was born, Oct. 5, 1953, in Fort Scott, to George Arthur and Ina Belle Chambers Hicks.

He graduated Fort Scott High School in 1971, and earned a B.S. and an M.S. in psychology at Pittsburg State University. He received his Ph.D. in counseling psychology at Kansas State University in 1981.

Positions with Dean Witter Reynolds in human resources management took him from San Francisco to the World Trade Center in New York City and then to Dallas in 1984, where he served as associate vice president. In 1991, while working in corporate training and development with Texas Instruments, he completed and M.B.A at Southern Methodist University. He also held positions in research development and organizational development, before beginning work as an independent consultant.

Survivors include his mother, Ina B. Hicks of the Presbyterian Village in Fort Scott; a brother, John Corbett Hicks of Mason, Mich., two nephews; two nieces; a cousin; three second cousins; and many friends across the country.

Following cremation, a memorial service will be conducted at a later date under the direction of the Konantz-Cheney Funeral Home. Burial will be in the Evergreen Cemetery.

Arrangements are under the direction of the Konantz-Cheney Funeral Home.

© 2005, The Morning Sun
http://www.morningsun.net/stories/082705/obi_20050827018.shtml
Randall Brian Hicks

DALLAS — Randall Brian ‘Randy’ Hicks, 51, of Dallas, formerly of Fort Scott, died Wednesday, Aug. 24, 2005, in Dallas.

He was born, Oct. 5, 1953, in Fort Scott, to George Arthur and Ina Belle Chambers Hicks.

He graduated Fort Scott High School in 1971, and earned a B.S. and an M.S. in psychology at Pittsburg State University. He received his Ph.D. in counseling psychology at Kansas State University in 1981.

Positions with Dean Witter Reynolds in human resources management took him from San Francisco to the World Trade Center in New York City and then to Dallas in 1984, where he served as associate vice president. In 1991, while working in corporate training and development with Texas Instruments, he completed and M.B.A. at Southern Methodist University. He also held positions in research development and organizational development, before beginning work as an independent consultant.

Survivors include his mother, Ina B. Hicks of the Presbyterian Village in Fort Scott; a brother, John Corbett Hicks of Mason, Mich., two nephews; two nieces; a cousin; three second cousins; and many friends across the country.

Following cremation, a memorial service will be conducted at a later date under the direction of the Konantz-Cheney Funeral Home. Burial will be in the Evergreen Cemetery.

Arrangements are under the direction of the Konantz-Cheney Funeral Home.