Lawrence A. Barrett, 73, of 902 N. Broadway, a retired newspaperman and educator, was found dead in his apartment Tuesday afternoon.

He was born Aug. 16, 1902, in Pittsburg, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Barrett, pioneer residents of Pittsburg. He attended the city schools in Pittsburg and was graduated from the State Manual Training Normal in Pittsburg in 1925.

He later received his masters degree from the University of Colorado and his Ph.D. degree from Roosevelt College in Chicago.

He left Pittsburg in 1925 when he taught school and was superintendent of schools in Salida, Colo. He returned to Pittsburg in 1955 when he worked as a reporter and assistant news editor for the Pittsburg Headlight-Sun, retiring several years ago.

Mr. Barrett, known as a perfectionist in newspaper work, wrote for several Midwest newspapers and the Associated Press. He also wrote numerous rhymes for the Kansas City Star.

He was an avid reader, subscribing to several local and national publications which he read cover to cover.

He was a 50-year member and past master of the Masonic Lodge in Salida, Colo.

Survivors include one sister, Mrs. Helen Hartman, 114 W. Potlitzer, and two nieces, Mrs. Lida Magness, Orange, Tex., and Mrs. Jean Weston, St. Joseph, Mo.

Graveside services will be at 2 p.m. Thursday in the Highland Park Cemetery with Dr. Lloyd H. Rising officiating. The body will remain at the Brenner Chapel until 1:30 p.m.
Lawrence A. Barrett, 73, of 902 N. Broadway, a retired newspaperman and educator, was found dead in his apartment Tuesday afternoon.

He was born Aug. 16, 1902, in Pittsburg, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Barrett, pioneer residents of Pittsburg. He attended the city schools in Pittsburg and was graduated from the State Manual Training Normal in Pittsburg in 1925.

He later received his master’s degree from the University of Colorado and his Ph.D. degree from Roosevelt College in Chicago.

He left Pittsburg in 1925 when he taught school and was superintendent of schools in Salida, Colo. He returned to Pittsburg in 1955 when he worked as a reporter and assistant news editor for the Pittsburg Headlight-Sun, retiring several years ago.

Mr. Barrett, known as a perfectionist in newspaper work, wrote for several Midwest newspapers and the Associated Press. He also wrote numerous rhymes for the Kansas City Star.

He was an avid reader, subscribing to several local and national publications which he read cover to cover.

He was a 50-year member and past master of the Masonic Lodge in Salida, Colo.

Survivors include one sister, Mrs. Helen Hartman, 114 W. Potlitzer, and two nieces, Mrs. Lida Magness, Orange, Tex., and Mrs. Jean Weston, St. Joseph, Mo.

Graveside services will be at 2 p.m. Thursday in the Highland Park Cemetery with Dr. Lloyd H. Rising officiating. The body will remain at the Brenner Chapel until 1:30 p.m.