Rachel Ann Blaser

She was born Nov. 13, 1978, in Joplin, Mo., to Roger and Ann (Washburn) Blaser. She had spent most of her life in Barton County.

She had attended college for the past seven years and was completing her degree as a Certified Registered Nurse Anesthetist. She had a BS Degree in Nursing and worked at Mt. Carmel Regional Medical Center.

Survivors include her parents of Lamar; one brother, Max Blaser of Lamar; her paternal grandparents, Dean and Dolores Blaser of Lamar; and her maternal grandmother, Mary K. Washburn of Lamar.

She was preceded in death by her maternal grandfather, Francis Washburn.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Friday at the Daniel Funeral Home with the Rev. Dan Fields officiating. Interment will be in Lake Cemetery of Lamar.

Arrangements are under the direction of the Daniel Funeral Home of Lamar.

©Copyright 2004 The Morning Sun
http://www.morningsun.net/stories/100704/obi_20041007017.shtml
Rachel Ann Blaser

She was born Nov. 13, 1978, in Joplin, Mo., to Roger and Ann (Washburn) Blaser. She had spent most of her life in Barton County.

She had attended college for the past seven years and was completing her degree as a Certified Registered Nurse Anesthetist. She had a BS Degree in Nursing and worked at Mt. Carmel Regional Medical Center.

Survivors include her parents of Lamar; one brother, Max Blaser of Lamar; her paternal grandparents, Dean and Dolores Blaser of Lamar; and her maternal grandmother, Mary K. Washburn of Lamar.

She was preceded in death by her maternal grandfather, Francis Washburn.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Friday at the Daniel Funeral Home with the Rev. Dan Fields officiating. Interment will be in Lake Cemetery of Lamar.

Arrangements are under the direction of the Daniel Funeral Home of Lamar.